PADUCAH, KENTUCKY, MONDAY, JULY 14, 1902.

10 CENTS PER WEEK.

20,000 ARE NOW IDLE

Second Week of the Freight Handlers' Strike Begins at Chicago.

Roosevelt Will No Doubt Be Nominated for President in 1904, It Is Said.

HOPTOWN ASYLUM SCANDAL

THE FREIGHT HANDLERS' STRIKE.

Chicago, July 11.—The second week of the freight handlers' strike began here today with 20,000 men idle. Shipping is at a standstill, and railroad warehouses that are ordinarily hives of industry were as quiet as they were yesterday so far as regular business is concerned. At a distance from each warehouse was a company of pickets posted to keep freight from entering or leaving the sheds. Nearer the depots were guards of police on duty to protect men in the warehouses, and to quell any disturbance that might arise. There is yet no settlement in sight.

ROOSEVELT WILL BE NOMINATED

Washington, July 11.—Secretary of the Navy Moody says that Roosevelt will without a doubt be nominated for president in 1904. He says the political friends of the president have received sufficient assurance to make this assertion with confidence.

ANOTHER ASYLUM SCANDAL.

Hopkinsville, July 14.—The city and the Hopkinsville asylum are torn up over another scandal at that institution. Miss Bettie Smith, prominently connected here, became a mother at the asylum, of which she had been an inmate for fifteen months. A rigid investigation will be made.

NEW SUPERINTENDENT.

MR. H. S. PORTER TO TAKE CHARGE OF STREET CARS AUGUST 1.

Mr. H. S. Porter, of Cincinnati, the young man elected superintendent of the Paducah City Railway company, will assume August 1, and is now familiarizing himself with the duties of the position.

Mr. Porter is a son of Judge J. Addison Porter, at one time private secretary to McKinley, and is one of the most prominent young men of Cincinnati. He was assistant superintendent of the Cincinnati car line.

A BURGLAR ARRESTED.

Hopkinsville, July 14.—Sam Stoner, one of the three negroes who at the point of a pistol held up J. F. Ellis, a grocer, and robbed his cash drawer, was arrested this morning. The other two men, Rodman Morgan and Coles Vaughn, are now serving terms in the penitentiary.

A VERY FINE STREET

Project Now on Foot to Extend Jefferson Street to the City Limits

Engineer at Work on Profile—Finest Street in the State When Finished.

WORK TO BEGIN AT ONCE

Paducah will probably in a short time have one of the prettiest thoroughfares in the state of Kentucky. It will be Jefferson street extended, a boulevard 100 feet wide for nearly a mile from its present terminus near Fountain avenue.

City Engineer L. A. Washington is now at work on the profile, which will be ready for the council at its next regular meeting. It is a continuation, largely, of the plans and profiles made by Engineer J. T. Postlewaite for the residents of the West End before he was elected city engineer, and provides for a handsome piece of work.

The street will begin at the present terminus of improvements, near Fountain avenue, and will run to the city limits, about 3,000 feet. About a block of it will be 60 feet wide, and the remainder will be one hundred feet wide. There will be grass plots on each side of the street car track, and fine gravel driveways on each side of the plots. In fact it will be virtually two streets together, and will be the prettiest street in Kentucky, the residents claim.

That portion of Paducah is fast becoming one of the prettiest as well as most fashionable residence portions of the city, and new houses are going up rapidly, besides the many handsome residences already there.

It is expected that the extension will begin at once and be completed before fall. Engineer Washington will finish his work before the next council meeting, and submit it for ratification. The property owners have long wanted the extension, but there was always a hitch over some property about a ravine, which has now been disposed of. The improvement will be at the expense largely of the property owners.

LARGE CONGREGATIONS

REV. J. M. HUBBERT OF LEBANON, TENN., PREACHED HERE YESTERDAY.

Rev. J. M. Hubbert, D.D., of Lebanon, Tenn., preached at the Cumberland Presbyterian church yesterday both morning and evening, and was heard by large and interested congregations. Dr. Hubbert is one of the leading men in the Cumberland Presbyterian church and was formerly president of the Theological seminary at Lebanon, Tenn., he is a scholarly man and an eloquent preacher. His morning theme was "Divine Providence," and "Christian Sympathy" was the evening subject. Both sermons were very fine, and were replete with strong and helpful thoughts. The music was excellent at both services and received many favorable comments. Mr. John G. Miller, Jr.'s, violin solo was a feature of the morning service, and a beautiful quartette by Mrs. E. P. Gilson, Mrs. C. H. Sherrill, Mr. Finis Lack and Mr. C. H. Sherrill was rendered in the evening that gave much pleasure.

JUSTICE BURNETT'S COURT.

Justice J. H. Burnett is holding court today, and has several civil suits on the docket. He has not yet gotten well settled in his office, but will have things running smoothly soon. This is his regular court day.

HE IS VERY DARING

Phez Crawford Seems to Like Paducah Pretty Well.

Officers Chase Him Twice in as Many Days—Several Shots Fired at Him.

HE IS AN ESCAPED CONVICT

Phez Crawford, the colored convict who is wanted in Nashville, seems to like Paducah, notwithstanding the fact that he escaped from the Nashville penitentiary about one year ago and was caught here by Officer Tom Evitts and returned, and has escaped again and is in dangerous territory.

Several days ago Marshal Crow and one of the day force policemen chased Crawford far out in the country, but were unsuccessful in catching him. Marshal Crow had left his gun at the city hall and the negro had a Winchester, it is said. They returned without their man, however, and nothing further was thought of Crawford, the officers thinking he had left this section of the country.

Yesterday afternoon the police were notified that a colored crap game was going on near the street car turn at La Belle park in addition to a colored baseball game and Officer Tom Evitts was sent out to catch the offenders. When he got near them one gave the alarm and they threw the craps away and Officer Evitts was unable to see them playing the game. As he made his approach, however, one negro got up and began to run and Mr. Evitts recognized him as Crawford. He called a halt but Crawford "paid him no mind," as the saying goes, and made hasty tracks for the deeper woods. The officer pulled out his pistol and shot twice at him but failed to hit his target. Crawford proceeded towards the cemetery and Mr. Evitts securing a buggy gave chase. The convict was pursued past the Dick Allen farm and escaped.

He is a daring negro and has narrowly escaped being caught twice since his return to Paducah. The officers will keep on a lookout for him and will waste no efforts in effecting his arrest and return to the Nashville authorities.

AS SPECIAL JUDGE

Attorney Oscar Kahn, Chosen During Judge Sander's Absence.

A Large Number of Cases Called and Disposed of in Police Court Today.

SEVERAL FINES WERE ASSESSED

Police Judge L. D. Sanders left yesterday for Echo Springs, Livingston county, for a week's sojourn, and this morning Attorney Oscar Kahn was sworn in as special judge of the police court for the week.

Charles Carmon and Lon Sanderson, two young men from Mayfield, came to the city yesterday and became too "cheerful." On North Fifth street at Harrison they met Allat Walters, colored, better known as "Dummy." Allen is supposed to be deaf and dumb, but he certainly isn't dumb judging from the sounds he made as he and the Sanderson boy fought all over that corner. The white men were fined, Sanderson $20 and costs and Carmon $15 and costs, and the negro was acquitted.

Dan Crosswell was fined $10 and costs for a breach of the peace.

George Thompson, colored, was fined $1 and costs for drunkenness.

Tom Long was acquitted on a charge of breach of the peace.

Aaron Shells, a West Court street pianist, was fined $10 and costs for disorderly conduct. He was alleged to have gone into Frankie Dixon's trunk, and at first it was intended to get a warrant for housebreaking.

A breach of the peace case against Rob Jones and Sherman Matlock, colored, was continued until the 17th.

The case against Herman Matthews, colored, charged with detaining a woman against her will, was granted a continuance. Rebecca Rogers had him arrested because of alleged indignities offered her in an alley.

The false swearing case against Ellen Parker, colored, was again continued.

Luther Pryor was fined $3 and costs for breach of the peace, and the case against Everett Bell, who was with him, was left open.

Mr. B. B. Linn has returned from a visit to his daughter in Texas. The latter, Mrs. Dr. Keys and baby, accompanied him home on a visit.

CHANGE OF HEART

The Fire Committee Now Against Accepting the Anchor Brand Hose

Has Found Out a Few Things Since the Investigation Began—Meets Today.

MAY PAY A LOWER PRICE.

The fire committee of the general council is meeting at the city hall this afternoon, and will refuse to accept the hose recently ordered from the National India Rubber Company, of New York, which has been the subject of much discussion in the city for the past two weeks.

The public is probably familiar with the facts connected with the hose deal. The city bought 2500 feet of Anchor Brand at $1.05 a foot, and one of the stipulations in the contract is that the hose is as cheap as it was ever sold to any other city.

About June 16, Mayor Yeiser and the committee were informed that the same hose had been offered to Cairo at 82 cents, and quietly began an investigation.

They did not want Paducah to have to pay more than other places could obtain the same hose for. The investigation has proceeded slowly, but surely, since then, a portion of it being public, and at present the conclusion that some of the committee seem to have formed is that there is a "hose trust," and that hose companies seem to have a general understanding with each other about prices.

The committee sent out to many cities circular letters making inquiry regarding the hose, and has received quite a number of replies, and as one of them stated this morning, they have "learned a great deal about hose," and one thing is that the prices are likely to be most anything.

"Much of the hose," declared one of the committeemen this morning, "we have learned since we began this investigation, was offered to Cairo at from 50 cents to $1 a foot, while none of it was offered here at anything under a dollar, scarcely."

This morning Councilman Mills of Bardwell arrived in the city and appeared before the committee. He stated under oath that the National Rubber company made Bardwell an offer of the same hose purchased by Paducah at 95 cents, with an understanding with one of the councilmen that the company would knock off 10 per cent more, if necessary, bringing it down to 85 1-2 cents.

The committee is also satisfied that the same hose was offered Cairo at 82 cents, although it has no positive proof, as the samples, bids and all are gone, and the only thing they have to rely on is the memory or opinions of the city officials there.

Chairman Hummell will accordingly recommend that the city reject the hose at the price agreed on, $1.05, and will probably be sustained by the other members of the committee. If the company is willing to make the city the price of 82 cents, the hose may be accepted.

The committee has not been able to find a place where the hose was sold for less than $1.05, and it is not known whether the hose concern will make a fight on this or not, the contract specifying that the price shall be as low as that "sold" to any other city, and not simply as that "offered" some other city.

Later—The mayor shortly after 3 o'clock this afternoon after a star chamber session of the committee, telegraphed the National India Rubber Co. cancelling the order for the hose.

THE KENTUCKY PRESS

Arrangements Made for the Approaching Trip.

The Crowd Is to Be Exclusively Newspaper, and the Convention Is at Owensboro.

THE COMPLETE PROGRAM

So far as is known there will be no delegates from Paducah to the meeting of the Kentucky Press Association next week.

All the arrangements for the meeting have been completed. It will be held at Owensboro on July 22 and 23. A business meeting will be held at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, after which the members will be taken to inspect numerous points of interest in the city. In the evening a meeting will be held at the opera house, at which the Hon. W. C. P. Breckinridge will deliver an address. A second business session will be held next morning and the usual literary exercises and the annual election of officers will take place.

President Harry Macarty, who will preside over the Owensboro meeting, is the seventeenth president the association has had. The lamented George D. Prentice and Walter N. Haldeman were the first and second presidents, respectively, the elections being in the following order:

- 1869—George D. Prentice.
- 1870—Walter N. Haldeman.
- 1870-1885—J. Stoddard Johnston.
- 1886—James W. Hopper.
- 1887-1889—E. Polk Johnson.
- 1890—Urey Woodson.
- 1891—Harry Sommers.
- 1892—Charles M. Meacham.
- 1893—Samuel J. Roberts.
- 1894—Ion B. Nall.
- 1895—John A. Bell.
- 1896—Ben D. Ringo.
- 1897—Loving W. Gaines.
- 1898—H. E. Woolfolk.
- 1899—John H. Westover.
- 1900—Robert W. Brown.
- 1901—Harry Macarty.

After the business of the association is concluded and the entertainments tendered by the people of Owensboro are over a party of the editors and their families will leave there Wednesday night, July 23, at 11 o'clock on a special train over the Louisville, Henderson and St. Louis, arriving at Cincinnati at 7 a. m. The editors and their wives will thereafter observe the following schedule:

- Thursday, July 24—Cincinnati to Toledo; Toledo to Detroit.
- Friday—Detroit to Port Huron; Port Huron to Mt. Clemens.
- Saturday—Visit to Star Island.
- Sunday—At Mt. Clemens all day.
- Monday—Mt. Clemens to Detroit; Detroit to Put-in-Bay.
- Tuesday—At Put-in-Bay; visit Sandusky and Kelly's Island.
- Wednesday—Put-in-Bay to Toledo; Toledo to Cincinnati, arriving at the latter place at 7:55 p. m.

The lines will be rigidly drawn to exclude all but representative newspaper men on the excursion. None but those who make their living by newspaper work, either as publishers, editors or managers will be received by the credentials committee, which will pass upon applications at Owensboro. Occasional publications, fraternal journals and advertising sheets will not be allowed to have representatives.

BRIDGE TRAIN LEAVES.

COUNTY ATTORNEYS.

NEXT YEAR THE MEETING WILL BE AT DAWSON.

County Attorney Eugene Graves returned Saturday night from Estill Springs, where he attended the county attorneys' convention. He reports a most enjoyable meeting, with about forty attorneys from various counties in attendance.

At the election of officers Samuel Molloy of Eddyville was elected president; Frank M. Tracey of Covington vice president; Attorney Davis of Pineville secretary, and La Vega Clemens, of Owensboro, was re-elected treasurer. The next meeting will be held at Dawson Springs, next summer. The exact time for it will be fixed by the executive committee.

BIG CLASS OF RED MEN.

Maysville has just initiated one of the largest classes of Red Men on record in the state. One hundred and fourteen were taken in, and the degree work was in the opera house, and the opera house scenery was used for the occasion. Maysville has 273 members.

THE SON LOCATED

Mr. Frank B. Tichenor Learns of His Father's Death.

Colonel George Tichenor a Prominent Man in the East.

Mr. F. B. Tichenor, of Paducah, whose father, Colonel George C. Tichenor, was reported dead Saturday in the New York press dispatches, arrived in Paducah Saturday night from Elizabethtown, Ill., where he had been to look after the sale of some property on which valuable minerals have been found, to eastern capitalists. His father died at his home in East Orange, N. J., from locomotor ataxia, after ten years' illness. The first information his son had of it was when he returned to Paducah at 6 o'clock in the evening.

Mr. Tichenor is employed as foreman of the Hollingshead barrel factory in Mechanicsburg, and resides at Farley place. He came here from Elizabethtown, Ill., and resided until about six years ago at East Orange.

His father was quite an important man, having at one time declined a cabinet position under President Harrison. He was a native Kentuckian, having been born in Shelbyville, Ky., in 1838. When a lad his parents moved to Des Moines and at the breaking out of the civil war he enlisted in the Thirty-ninth Iowa volunteers, being appointed colonel.

He also served on the staff of General G. M. Dodge and was badly wounded four times.

At the close of the war he served as postmaster of Des Moines for two terms.

In 1878 he was sent to Europe by the treasury department as special agent to visit the financial centers of the continent. He later made his home in Washington and was assistant secretary of the treasury during a part of the administration of President Harrison.

He was then made president of the board of general appraisers in New York, a place which he held at the time of his death.

In 1866 he married Miss Frances Gotchell, of Des Moines, who survives him, with his two sons. He left a fair estate.

The funeral will take place under the auspices of the G. A. R. and the Loyal Legion. Mr. Tichenor left yesterday for East Orange to attend the obsequies.

TAKES HIS VACATION.

REV. G. W. PERRYMAN LEAVES FOR A TWO WEEKS' TRIP.

Rev. G. W. Perryman, of the First Baptist church, leaves tonight for Central Kentucky on a two weeks' vacation. He will visit friends in a number of cities before he returns.

Mr. G. W. McNeilly, who is here from Russellville college, where he is studying for the ministry, on a vacation, will preach at the church next Sunday.

HAD TWO HUNDRED

NICE EXCURSION CROWD TAKEN TO EDDYVILLE YESTERDAY.

The steamer Dick Fowler left yesterday morning with about 200 people for Eddyville, and had a nice trip, the excursionists spending the afternoon in the pretty little city on the Cumberland. The trip was made in good time, the boat returning early last evening.

CURES SCIATICA.

Rev. W. L. Riley, L.L.D., Cuba, New York, writes: "After 15 days of excruciating pain from sciatic rheumatism, under various treatments, I was induced to try Ballard's Snow Liniment, the first application giving my first relief, and the second, entire relief. I can give it unqualified recommendation. 25c, 50c and $1 at DuBois Kolb and Co.

WANTS TO SEE EDWARD

A Remarkable Man Employed by the Illinois Central R. R.

He Leaves Chicago Shortly to Make a Tour of England.

The Illinois Central has one of the most remarkable men in America in its employ. He is A. A. Young, and has been with the road almost since it became a road. In a day or two he starts from his home in Chicago for England and Ireland, bearing to Ambassador Choate, in London, letters of introduction from Mayor Carter Harrison. Mr. Young is 90 years old and has resided in Chicago for 68 years, and been in the offices of the Illinois Central railway ever since the road entered Chicago. Mr. Young wants to round out his record by seeing King Edward VII. He has seen George IV., William IV. and Victoria. His grandfather saw George I., and the grandfather of the grandfather, according to family tradition, saw Shakespeare and Queen Elizabeth.

"I saw Abraham Lincoln many a time," he said. "I was one of the guard of honor that attended his body when it lay in state here." During the Spanish-American war Mr. Young was traveling in Cuba, and the Spaniards made him a prisoner. They held him until the end of the war, but treated him kindly.

Mr. Young expects to return to America when he has completed his visit to his old home.

METROPOLIS CARNIVAL.

WEEK'S FESTIVITIES BEGAN
THERE THIS MORNING.

The carnival and street fair at Metropolis given under the auspices of the Knights of Pythias, began today, and lasts a week. Its opening was most auspicious, and the indications are for a successful affair.

Wednesday is Paducah day, and a large crowd from the city is expected to go down and enjoy the hospitality and entertainment of our neighbors.

It is also Pythian day, and large delegations are expected from neighboring cities.

PAINFULLY HURT.

MR. WILL ORR COMES NEAR LOSING AN EYE BY ACCIDENT.

Mr. Will Orr, the well known bartender, came near losing his right eye yesterday. He went to Eddyville on the excursion with his family, and while attempting to open a bottle of pickles with a case knife, his hand slipped and the knife flew up, cutting the flesh to the bone just at the side of his eye, and missing the eye only half an inch. He was blind for quite a while, but is today suffering very little from the injury.

JOHN B. PARISH.

A WELL KNOWN CARPENTER
DIES IN MECHANICSBURG.

John B. Parish, aged 88, a well known carpenter employed at Riglesberger's mill, died yesterday at his home, 1806 Bridge street, from consumption of the bowels, after a long illness. He was a member of the Woodmen, and leaves a family. The funeral took place this afternoon at 3 o'clock under the auspices of the Woodmen, burial at Oak Grove.

I suffered with rheumatism for a number of years. My joints were stiff and swollen; my hands were completely paralyzed; and after two treatments was so much benefited that I unhesitatingly recommend the use of Dr. Brown's Magic Liniment, with his blood purifier. I am satisfied it will cure me.

ELMENDORFF HELD.

PADUCAHAN GOES OVER IN THE SMITHLAND COURT.

Ernest Elmendorff, of Paducah, who has always proven too slick for local officers, was held to answer at Smithland Saturday on a charge of furnishing saws and other tools to Charles Culver, a man in jail there charged with blowing the safe at Lola and securing about $1,200. Furthermore, it may be proven that Elmendorff knows something of the safe cracking. He was arrested two weeks ago and taken to Smithland, and when held over Saturday his bond was fixed at $500, which he failed to give.

He is said to be none other than "Rube Parker," who was up about Dixon, Webster county, when the safe blowing was going on in that section. Elmendorff was arrested here two or three years ago for smuggling files into the county jail between the pages of a magazine, but the charge was never proven.

THE BOSS WORM MEDICINE.

H. P. Kumpe, druggist, Leighton, Ala., writes: "One of my customers had a child, which was sick, and threw up all food, could retain nothing on its stomach. He bought one bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge, and it brought up 119 worms from the child. It's the boss worm medicine in the world." White's Cream Vermifuge is also the children's tonic. It improves their digestion and assimilation of food, strengthens their nervous system and restores them to the health, vigor and elasticity of spirits natural to childhood. 25c at DuBois, Kolb and Co.

BILLPOSTERS' CONVENTION

MESSRS. WILL UTTERBACK AND JOE EVERICH HAVE RE-TURNED FROM MIL-WAUKEE.

Messrs. Will Utterback and Joe Everich have returned from Milwaukee, where they attended the National Billposters' convention, which met there July 8 to the 10. It was a most successful meeting in every respect, and the next national meeting will be held in Louisville next July.

THE PERFECT LIVER MEDICINE

Mrs. M. A. Jolley, Noble, O. T., writes: "I have used Herbine for a number of years, and can cheerfully recommend it as the most perfect liver medicine, and the greatest blood purifier. It is a medicine of positive merit, and fully accomplishes all that is claimed for it." Malaria cannot find lodgment in the system while the liver is in perfect order, for one of its functions is to prevent the absorption of fever producing poisons. Herbine is a most efficient liver regulator. 50c at DuBois, Kolb and Co.

NEW BANK.

ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION
FILED FOR SALEM CON-CERN.

Articles of incorporation for the new bank at Salem, Livingston county have been filed. Its capital stock is $16,000, and its officers are to be: J. D. Hayden, president; R. M. George, vice president, and Roy L. Threlkeld, cashier. The building it is to occupy is now under way, and it is expected that the new concern will begin doing business by October 1st.

REPULSIVE FEATURES.

Blackheads, pimples, greasy faces and muddy complexions, which are so common among women, especially girls at a certain age, destroying beauty, disfiguring and making repulsive features which would otherwise appear attractive and refined, indicate that the liver is out of order. An occasional dose of Herbine will cleanse the bowels, regulate the liver and establish a clear, healthy complexion. 50c at DuBois, Kolb and Co.

Mr. W. B. Smith, who is to occupy a position with the Globe Bank and Trust company, is expected this afternoon from Madisonville with his family.

Observations taken at 7 a. m. River 17.6 on the gauge, a fall of 1.0 in last 48 hours. Wind east, a light breeze. Weather clear and warmer.

Pell, Observer.

The Clyde is due from Tennessee river today.

The Penguin arrived from Tennessee river for ties.

The Pavonia left yesterday morning for Tennessee river for ties.

The Luella Warren is in from Cumberland river with a tow of lumber.

The Dick Fowler departed on time this morning for Cairo with a good trip.

The Memphis will arrive tomorrow on route to St. Louis from Tennessee river.

The little steamer Kuttawa is here with a small tow. She will return up the river today.

The Lyda, which has been laying up for repairs, will leave tomorrow for Tennessee river.

The Butterff is due from Nashville and will leave immediately on her arrival for Clarksville.

The Inverness arrived Saturday from Tennessee river and left today on her return for more ties.

The big Pittsburg towboat, the Harry Brown passed down late Saturday afternoon with a big tow of coal.

The Victor arrived from Cumberland river Saturday late and left this morning for Pittsburg Landing on the Tennessee river.

The Clifton will leave St. Louis today at 5 o'clock and will arrive at Paducah Tuesday night en route to Tennessee river.

The Cowling will run excursions to Paducah during this week for the accommodation of those who desire to take in the carnival.

The Jim T. Duffey, Jr., arrived Saturday and is laying up for repairs to her furnaces. She will leave tomorrow for Tennessee river for ties.

Captain James Koger left last night for Jeffersonville to look after his new boat. The vessel is nearing completion and Captain Koger's visits are frequent.

The John Summers is at Joppa raising several sunken barges and will not go out again until she has completed that work. She arrived last week with a tow.

The Cowling ran an excursion out of Metropolis yesterday which was well patronized. The boat had no particular destination but ran up and down the river for the ride only.

The Sunshine passed up Saturday afternoon late and will probably lay up at Cincinnati until business increases. This is a dull season in that trade and both boats are not doing a great deal.

The Avalon passed down from Cincinnati to Memphis yesterday morning

Observationsat Random

Police officers often have narrow escapes and do not know it. Recently a policeman was sent to the river to find a man wanted on a minor charge and upon arriving learned that his man was on a steamboat ready to leave the city. The fugitive had a gun, the officer was told, and meant to use it. From subsequent developments it was learned that he really did have a gun and would have used it had the officer not been warned in advance. This is only one of the many such cases that should make us more appreciative of our officers.

The peculiar actions of a strange young man at the passenger depot the other night have resulted in considerable comment. He began making himself conspicuous by asking everybody to have a drink with him. He said that he was a doctor and a brother of a well known official on this division. He could not get any of the local railroad employees to drink with him and becoming angry apparently, got drunk alone. It was afterwards discovered that he was no doctor at all, as he had filled his medicine with water, colored with red and black pepper and vinegar. His action could not be understood as he attempted to get nothing from anyone. It is believed he was crazy.

The story of a guilty conscience making cowards of us all was ludicrously exemplified the other day. The patrol wagon drove up to a negro's house to discharge a policeman who was making an investigation and while the wagon was drawn up at no particular place, the occupants of the house thought it was for them, and in a twinkling every window in the "shack" was tightly closed and the door barred. The occupants could be seen scurrying pell mell in every direction, out of the back doors and into neighbors' houses, anywhere to get out of the way of the officer. When it was learned that no one was wanted the windows were cautiously opened and things resumed their former appearance. It showed plainly what quick action those looking for trouble can boast of.

A police officer told this to illustrate how the ignorant, stupid criminal is often worked on by a shrewd officer. A negro had been arrested for stealing chickens but there was no particular evidence against him. He was simply arrested on suspicion. He naturally asked why he had been arrested and in order not to let him know too much he was told that "he would soon see." The negro kept his tongue for a time but finally began to mutter and mumble to himself saying that he didn't do it and they couldn't prove it. His actions were noticed and the officers and judge, after a conference, decided that the negro thought he had been arrested for something more serious than the charge preferred. By patient and systematic pumping the facts were finally drawn out and within a month he been convicted for being implicated in the robbery of a store in which the cash register had been "touched" for several hundred dollars. In this way murderers are often caught.

A few nights ago two young ladies telephoned a young gentleman friend and invited him to call that evening and bring another young man who was a mutual friend. The young man went to the latter and asked him if he wanted to go.

"I don't feel like going out myself," said the first named. "I thought I would ask you what you thought about it, though."

"Glad you don't want to go," said the other. "I don't feel well myself, and think I shall turn in early."

They had a "dope" together, and went home.

The first young man had almost reached the gate, when he decided that he did want to call on the young ladies, and not being able to find the other young man, asked the first one he met to accompany him.

The second young man concluded after going a short distance that he believed he would go after all, and as he had been invited, and was half way expected, it would do no harm to take a friend. So he found a friend and they started.

In about fifteen minutes they rang the bell. When they got inside the parlor there were mutual surprises. They found the two other young men already on the scene of action, and the young ladies had four callers instead of two. The two young men the young ladies asked to call are still trying to decide whom the joke is on.

A lively stable seems to have a fascination for the small boy, especially the small colored boy, because the small colored boy is often willing to take the horses to water and in other ways make himself useful where a white boy would not deign to stoop to anything like labor, and is consequently better treated.

The boys, white and colored alike, however, often become nuisances. They even go so far as to cut and deface the finely polished buggies. One of the worst about this is a dudish looking "yaller" boy, who hung about a certain stable day and night. He had been told repeatedly about such conduct, and always denied his guilt until it was proven, then he would promise not to do it again.

A few mornings ago he was around early, attired in new clothes with a "biled" collar. The first thing he was seen to do was to go up to a new buggy and begin absent-mindedly scratching it up. The colored hostler was busy scraping up the mud about the water trough, and having a well filled shovel, he decided to teach the boy a lesson. Creeping cautiously up, he called the youngster, and when he turned his head let him have the load from his forehead to his waist bad. It spread like shot from a gun. "I dun tole yo' 'bout scratchin' up dem buggies," muttered the hostler, as the boy darted down the street shouting "police" with all his might. He hasn't been seen about the stable since.

POLICE BOARD.

IT WILL PROBABLY MEET THIS EVENING AT THE CITY HALL.

Messrs. Sutherland, Clark, Rogers and Bonds, the fire and police board, appointed a few days ago by Mayor Yeiser, will probably meet this evening at the city hall and be sworn in, and proceed to business. At present there is one vacancy to fill, that from the resignation several weeks ago of Officer Charles Hart of the day force. There are several applicants for the place, and it is not known now whom the board will appoint.

FERRY BOAT CHARTERED.

EXCURSIONS TO BE RUN TO METROPOLIS WEDNESDAY NEXT.

The Paducah fire department, through Chief Woods, has chartered the ferryboat Bettie Owen for next Wednesday, "Paducah Day," at the Metropolis Elks carnival, and will run two excursions to that place, one at 9 a. m. and the other at 7 p. m. It is likely a large crowd will go down on each trip.

A WISE MERCHANT.

A merchant over at Rolla states that his advertising last year cost him 45 cents for every $100 worth of goods sold. He uses a half page for his business announcements each week and says that as long as the people read newspapers he will advertise. There's a man possessed of a good head. Just as soon as merchants begin to look upon advertising as a branch of their business which requires as much care as any other part of it, then will advertising commence to pay. Honesty, force, originality and persistency in advertising make it a paying venture.—Bottineau, N. D., Courant.

ECZEMA

is due to the retention in the system of Uric Acid or other inflammatory poisons which find their way into the blood, and are forced by the circulation through the glands and pores of the skin, causing it to burn like fire, and the incessant itching allows no rest night or day. Eczema appears in a great many different forms, beginning frequently as a mere redness of the skin, followed by little blisters or pimples, from which a clear or straw colored matter oozes, forming into sores, scales or scabs; this is weeping Eczema, commonly called Salt Rheum. These acid poisons sometimes dry up the natural oils and the skin becomes hard and dry, often cracking and bleeding and causing intense pain and fearful itching. This form of Eczema is known as Tetter, and often attacks the hands and feet. Unsightly eruptions in the shape of pimples and blackheads break out upon the face, neck and shoulders as a result of polluted blood, and this humiliating disease is called Acne. Local remedies afford but scant relief. The blood and system being saturated with the poison, the disease cannot be reached with washes, salves, powders or other local applications. S. S. S. restores the deteriorated blood to its normal condition, stimulates the sluggish organs, and all the waste matter is eliminated through the proper channels. S. S. S. makes the blood rich and strong, and under its tonic and invigorating effects the general health improves, and the skin becomes soft and smooth again.

The Agricultural and Mechanical (State College) College of Kentucky offers the following courses of study, viz.: Agricultural, Horticultural, Chemical, Biological, Mathematical, Physical, Entomological, Physiological, Normal School, Classical, Mechanical Engineering, Electrical Engineering, each of which extends over four years and leads to a degree. Post-graduate courses of study are also provided, leading each to a master's degree. Each course of study is organized under a separate faculty. The general faculty numbers more than forty professors and instructors.

County Appointees receive tuition, room rent in dormitories, fuel, lights, and if they remain ten months, traveling expenses. The laboratories and museums are large, well equipped, comprehensive and modern.

The last and the preceding Legislatures appropriated $60,000 for a college home for young women and $30,000 for drill hall and gymnasium for men.

Military tactics and science are fully provided for and required by Congress.

Graduates from the several courses of study really find excellent positions and liberal remuneration. The demand is largely in excess of the ability of the college to supply.

CIVIL SERVICE RECORD.
The handbook of the Republican congressional campaign committee is soon to be issued, and among other things will contain a chapter showing that President Roosevelt's record as President sustains all the recommendations he made while civil service commissioner. It will show, among other things, that during the first three months of his administration the President placed with in the classified service the rural free delivery service of the postoffice department, with its force of over 6,000 employees; the positions of 1,600 employees in field services of the war department were restored to that service; a plan was inaugurated having in view the general substitution of superintendents of Indian training schools appointed under civil service rules, for Indian agents a rule was promulgated requiring public officers of the federal service to give testimony under oath or affirmation before the civil service commission, in its investigations; abuses in the transfer and reinstatement provisions of the rules governing the certification of eligibles was so amended that advantage could not be taken of the circumstances that fewer than three names remained upon a register; auditing and disbursing officers were forbidden to pay salaries to persons shown by the civil service commission to be holding positions in violation of the civil service rules. the above all common laborers in the government service have been put under a special classification, similar to that in force in navy yards, which gives them protection in their places, although they are not by legislation included in the classified service; federal employees in Porto Rico have been included in the classified service, and a recent order relating to promotions is regarded as one of the most important that has been promulgated by the President. This prohibits employees from soliciting the influence of members of congress for the purpose of securing increase in salaries.

COLONEL COLOCOCK OFFENDED.

Colonel Colcock, sah, of Louisiana, sah, made a trip to Oyster Bay a few days ago, sah, to interview President Roosevelt. Colonel Colcock is secretary of the Cane Growers' Association, and doubtless wanted to impart to the president some important and useful information regarding cane growing. In fact this distinguished personage who hailed from Louisiana had so important a mission that he tried three years, according to his own admission, to get an interview with President McKinley, with prospects of success, when President McKinley's assassination took place. Nevertheless, he expected the president to break all rules and receive him with open arms, and it was, as usual, the unexpected which happened. Colonel Colcock, sah, was informed that he could not see the president because all interviews must be arranged beforehand, and this one was not. This shock to the colonel's vanity was something awful, and made him think and say some awful things. He could not be convinced of the necessity of making rules to prevent cranks from taking up the time of the president, and refused to be mollified. He was wroth, so wroth that he at once decided that President Roosevelt will never be nominated for president, forsooth because he declined to receive Colonel Colcock, sah, of Louisiana! Furthermore, he, the colonel, will hereafter deny relationship with the president. He discovered some time ago that his forefathers and those of President Roosevelt came to this country together and intermarried, a fact of which he was once proud. But alas! He no longer pleads guilty to the kinship. In fact, he is now glad that the president did not have the honor and pleasure of receiving him at Oyster Bay. The president is entitled to our sympathies.

Twelve or fourteen street cars are run regularly every day in Paducah, averaging one trip every fifteen minutes each. They run sixteen hours, and often longer, which would make 896 trips a day, total. It seems strange, if there is any negligence or carelessness, or disregard for the laws and ordinances that there are not more accidents, with the cars making nearly a thousand trips a day through crowded streets. Yet there are comparatively few accidents, and the court records will show, that while every man who can be induced by schyster lawyers to bring a suit for some real or imaginary injury usually does so with a hope of at least getting some small amount in compromise, few of them ever recover in the courts, despite the universal prejudice against corporations, especially street car and railroad companies. This would indicate that most of the street car accidents that occur result from the carelessness of the victim, and not the street car employees. If the good features and advantages of public utilities were made as prominent as the so-called evils, people would perhaps be more just towards them.

The United States is making rapid gains in the share which she furnishes of the importations of Japan. The "Annual Returns of the Foreign Trade of the Empire of Japan," for the year 1901 has just been received by the treasury bureau of statistics. It shows that the United States which in 1881 furnished less than 6 per cent. of the imports of Japan, supplied 17 per cent. of those imports in 1901; and that the United Kingdom, our chief rival in that trade, which supplied over 52 per cent. of those imports in 1881 furnished but 20 per cent. of Japan's importations in 1901. The total value of Japan's imports from the United States in 1881 was 1,781,108 yen, and in 1901, 42,769,429 yen. The total value of Japan's imports from the United Kingdom in 1881 was 16,364,740 yen, and in 1901 was 50,575,788. The United States now stands second in the list of non-Asiatic countries in the imports of Japan, and falls but a few thousand yen below India, the only Asiatic country which ranks with the United States in the imports of Japan.

A contemporary remarks: "As the citizens of Paducah have been complaining about the muddy water in which they have to bathe, and the impossibility of removing the coat of mud after a bath, they might try drying before an electric fan and then dusting off with a feather duster." This is a very good idea. The only objection is that the bather would have to patronize the street car company to get the electric fan.

The people of Paducah should remember the attractions at Metropolis this week. We have our own carnivals, and the residents of Metropolis never fail to come up and help us enjoy them, and we should be equally as hospitable. We shall enjoy it, and they will appreciate it.

STILL IDLE

NO WORK IS ON THE MARINE WAYS AT PRESENT.

The Marine Ways are still idle, and the Henry Harley, the Nashville packet, is here to be pulled out and have a new Texas built besides a new coat of paint.

Captain Williams is out of the city and the men will remain idle until his return, and until the boats are pulled out. The carpenters claim that they have had no trouble with the ways people and that they are ready to go to work immediately, as soon as something is pulled out for them to work on.

SAID HE WAS ROBBED.

A man from Hamletsburg, whose name was not learned, claimed to have lost a $25 watch and $16 in money on the Dick Fowler yesterday en route to Paducah from Eddyville, where the boat had run an excursion. The man had been drinking, and had gone to sleep on the deck. It is supposed some one "touched" him while he slept.

England's Railway Casualty Roll.

Eight hundred and ninety-eight persons came by their deaths and 13,181 were injured on the railways and on railway premises in Great Britain during the nine months ending Sept. 30 last.

Of these 821 were killed and 4,808 were injured on railways in the course of public traffic, while 77 were killed and 8,373 were injured from various other kinds of accidents.

Not a single passenger was killed as the result of an accident to a train, and although 279 were injured in this way, the number shows a decrease of 476 on the corresponding period of 1900. "Accidents from other causes" caused the death of 84 passengers and the injury of 1,163, being a decrease of 76 injured.

Three hundred and fifty-one railway servants were killed and 3,107 injured.

Conscience Money for Hotel.

The other day a priest presented himself to the cashier of the Parker house and handed him $50, for which he asked a receipt. When asked to whose account the money should be credited the priest replied that the money came from one of his flock, who had requested him to hand it to the Parker house cashier and to have it credited to the conscience fund, without revealing the identity of the person for whom he was acting. The money was credited as directed. It may be thought that this is an extraordinary occurrence, but the hotel's conscience fund is augmented by frequent contributions from anonymous sources. Nor is the experience of this hotel exceptional. It obtains in a great many establishments having extensive dealings with the public.

A Clever Aristocrat.

The marchioness of Londonderry has brains as well as beauty. She is a clever talker, has written several able articles for reviews and magazines and has a considerable talent for organization. Boating and yachting are her favorite amusements. She understands practical seamanship and can sail and steer a boat to perfection.

WHALE APPEARED ON SCHEDULE.

It Appeared Just When the Captain Had Predicted.

"We had a fussy old lady with us one voyage," remarked the captain of the coastwise steamer, as some of the many passengers bound for the New Orleans Mardi Gras begged him to spin a yarn the other day, "and no sooner had we passed out of the Narrows than she came to me and announced that she had something very particular to say. 'Well, madam, what is it?' says I, though I knew by her looks it was some crank question. 'Captain,' she says, looking me straight in the eye, 'when shall we see a whale? I have crossed several times, and I have never seen a whale, and I wish to see one. When shall we see one on this trip?' 'At 10 minutes to 8 tomorrow morning, ma'am,' says I. 'There's a whale due then, and if you'll look alive you'll see it.' And, if you'll believe it, that fussy old lady walked off perfectly satisfied.

"At 7:45 the next morning the first officer came to me. 'Whale sighted to starboard, sir,' says he. I stared. He repeated it. 'Run quick,' says I, 'and tell that fussy old party that was at me yesterday that the whale I promised her is here on the minute.' 'Of course,' continued the captain, 'it wouldn't have happened one time in a thousand, but, as it happened, this was the time. But what a reputation it gave me! All over the United States did that story travel. Wherever I went, the minute folks heard my name it was, 'Ah! you're the captain whose whale appears according to schedule and on time.' They said, 'with a satisfied smile, 'that it boomed the boat as well as me. Folks—particularly fussy old ladies—liked to travel with a captain who could foretell a whale to the minute.'—New York Evening Sun.

Notorious "Billingsgate."

This is the notorious Billingsgate, but one looks in vain for the fishwife who made its ancient fame, writes John Corbin, describing the heart of London, in Scribner's Magazine. It is no use to inquire after her from the porters; they have never heard of her existence. Her brawny arms are forgotten; her eagle eye for custom, her thirst for gin, her shrewd gibes, her ready pipe, and her more ready repartee, her torrents of invective. Evil answers made her boil over. Only one human means was ever found to quiet her. It is said to be one of Horne Tooke's titles to fame that he silenced a fishwife with the retort: "Madame, believe me, you are a parallelopipedon." But what one man could not accomplish for one moment has been done forever by the slow lapse of years. Of all her rhetorical armory, only profanity remains, and even this is so like the universal profanity of man that it makes the fishwife seem the more hopelessly extinct.

Better informed.

"Now, I rather pride myself on my ability to read character," said the man who was given to buying detective tales, "and yet why should I? It is really a very simple thing—requires nothing but close observation. For instance, it is very easy to tell a man's occupation. His facial expression, his actions, even his dress, are stamped by his daily work. You see that man sitting opposite us? Well, I'm just as sure as though he had told me that he is a barber."

"You are mistaken," replied his friend. "That man is a butcher."

"Impossible," exclaimed the amateur detective. "You never saw a butcher with slim, white hands like his."

"Perhaps not," admitted the other, "but he is a butcher, just the same."

"How do you know he is?"

"How do I know? Why, the accountant shaved me once."

Japanese Signs.

Nearly every shop in Japan for the sale of foreign goods is furnished with a sign in a foreign language. No matter whether the language is intelligible, if it is only in foreign characters, that is enough. Many of these signs are a study: "The all countries Boot and Shoe Small or Fine Wares," "Old Curious," "Horseshoe maker instruct by French horse leech," "Cut Hair Shop," "If you want sell watch I will buy; if you want to buy watch I will sell. Yes, sir, we will, all will. Come at my shop. Watchmaker;" "Hatter Native Country," "Antematie of Nausea Marina," "The House Build for the manufacture of all and best kinds of Hats and Caps."

NEED QUICK PUNISHMENT.

Of late there seems to be several boys going about sticking pins and small nails in bicycle tires, and this morning one merchant found half a dozen small pin punctures in both tires. Several days ago several spokes had been out in his front wheel by some mischievous boy. There have been other complaints and if the boys perpetrating such so-called jokes are caught, it will not go easy with them.

FARM FOR SALE.

Containing about 300 acres one-third of which is timber. Located on the P. and C. gravel road six miles from Paducah and is known as the Wilson place. The new railroad now being built from Paducah to Cairo will pass through southeast corner and detach about four and a half acres. Will sell cheap for cash. For particulars address or call on C. E. Jennings, Paducah, Ky.

WAGON TURNED OVER.

Saturday afternoon late the street car wire wagon, a vehicle used in hauling the wire, struck a rock near the Sleeth drug store, corner Ninth and Broadway, and turned over. The men who were on top of the wagon jumped off and escaped injury. Little damage was done.

METROPOLIS STREET FAIR.

The steamers Cowling and Dick Fowler will sell round trip tickets to Metropolis and return Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday at ONE FARE for round trip. Good on either boat. Ticket limited to day of sale.

S. A. Fowler, G. P. A.

BREACH OF THE PEACE WARRANT.

Charles Williams, white, this morning swore out a warrant against Will Taylor, charging him with striking him in the face. The case will be heard in police court tomorrow, if the defendant is arrested.

LOCAL LINES.

Cost you 8 cents per line.

Beit has plenty hickory wood at 1230 South Third Street. Mail orders.

—Thompson Emery, 120 Court, has just put in some new hot and cold baths, and would be pleased to have his friends call. Price, 25 cents. 7c

—Miss Dora Burnham will leave today for Dawson Springs, to be gone ten days.

—Misses Nellie, Edna and Bessie Gockel have returned from a visit to St. John's.

—Mrs. John C. Benson is seriously ill from typhoid fever at her home on Fifth street.

—Quite a crowd left on the Dick Fowler this morning for Metropolis to attend the carnival.

—Vera Conley, a female prisoner in the lockup, fell from a top bunk Saturday night and was painfully bruised about the hips.

—Clerk J. R. Puryear has received the following discharges in bankruptcy: Hugh Burrows, white, David Sims, colored, Paducah; Edgar T. Washburn, Wickliffe.

—Mrs. Hamlin took an overdose of tincture of digitalis Saturday night through mistake and Dr. Hessig had to be called to save her life. She lives on a shantyboat.

—Ed Scott, the fifteen year old son of Mr. Walter Scott, the Broad street tinner, was caught in Fulton Saturday night and brought back by Captain Henry Bailey yesterday. He ran away from home Thursday.

—Messrs. Charles Robertson and F. W. Weitlauf have purchased from W. H. Teeter the privileges for selling a patent coffee pot in eight counties in the first congressional district. The article is one that is so constructed that none of the grounds can come out when the coffee is poured.

DONATIONS.

Thanks are due the following persons for donations for the month of June:

To Mr. C. L. Brunson, for a wagon load of flowering plants, and for having the beds made and flowers planted, thereby enhancing the beauty of the yard very much.

To Mrs. Arnold for improvements in yard.

SMALL BLAZE.

FIRE DEPARTMENT CALLED TO LIFEL ROW TODAY.

The fire departments were called to Liebel Row this morning to extinguish a small blaze among clothes in a closet of a negro house.

It is supposed that children set the clothes afire and when the blaze was discovered the entire contents of the closet were ablaze. When the departments arrived the fire had already been extinguished. The property belongs to Mr. Chris Liebel and no damage was done.

WANTS A DIVORCE

Paducah Girl Asks For Legal Separation in Circuit Court.

Was Not Known That She and Defendant Were Married till Today.

The first information that many friends and acquaintances of a young lady of Paducah have that she was married will be when they learn that she has sued for divorce. Two seasons ago Louis M. Hutchinson was in charge of the privileges of the Buckskin Bill Show. Mr. A. S. Terrell of Paducah, one of the proprietors and managers, had his daughter, Miss Sydney, with him, and she and Hutchinson were married, but kept the marriage a secret from the public, and all but a few intimate friends.

This morning she filed a suit in circuit court here against Hutchinson for divorce and restoration to her maiden name, Sydney Terrell.

The petition states that the plaintiff and defendant were married June 6, 1901, and that during the past six months he has not provided properly for her support, and has furthermore treated her in a cruel and inhuman manner, threatened her life, cursed and abused her and destroyed her peace and happiness. These she gives her grounds for divorce. Hutchinson left the city last winter.

WAS MAD

OFFICER WOODS DISPATCHED A RABID ANIMAL WITH HIS CLUB.

A mad dog broke loose on lower Broadway today at noon and Marshal Crow sent Officer Joe Woods to Maiden alley to kill the rabid canine. He knocked the dog in the head with his club and killed it. The animal had tried to bite several persons and was a genuine mad dog.

—Marshal Crow received a letter this morning signed "Residents of Jackson street," requesting that a woman of questionable character be forced to leave. The letter stated that the matter was something that should receive immediate attention and Officer Tom Orr was instructed to look into the matter.

MESMERIZED.

A POISONOUS DRUG STILL FREELY USED.

Many people are brought up to believe that coffee is a necessity of life, and the strong hold that the drug has on the system makes it hard to loosen its grip, even when one realizes its injurious effects.

A lady in Baraboo writes: "I had used coffee for years; it seemed one of the necessities of life. A few months ago my health, which had been slowly failing, became more impaired, and I knew that unless relief came from some source, I would soon be a physical wreck. I was weak and nervous, had such sick headaches, no ambition, and felt tired of life. My husband was also losing his health. He was troubled so much with indigestion that at times he could eat only a few mouthfuls of dry bread.

"We concluded that coffee was slowly poisoning us, and stopped it, and used hot water. We felt somewhat better, but it wasn't satisfactory. Finally we saw Postum Coffee advertised, and bought a package. I followed directions for making carefully, allowing it to boil twenty minutes after it came to the boiling point, and added cream, which turned it to the loveliest rich looking and tasting drink I ever saw served at any table, and we have used Postum ever since. I gained five pounds in weight in a few weeks, and now feel strong in every respect. My headaches have gone, and I am a new woman. My husband's indigestion has left him, and he can now eat anything." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

WITH THE THEATERS.

"The Castaways" is to be presented at La Belle park theater tonight. This is a comedy drama of exceptional interest, and has been played here earlier in the season by Mr. Schaffer's company, but, on account of a number of requests, it was decided to reproduce it again. At its last presentation there were numerous curtain calls, Miss Mandeville and Mr. Middleton at one time being obliged to acknowledge three calls. The members of the cast being at the outset familiar with their parts has allowed the time usually devoted to "letter perfect" rehearsal to be given to perfecting and improving the action and business of the play, and a presentation yet better than the one which so pleased the people can be expected. New specialties and songs, together with a fine program of orchestral music, greatly add to the attraction of the bill. There will be but three performances of "The Castaways"—Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

Mrs. Otis Skinner (Maud Darbin), after three or four permanent retirements from the stage, is to reappear again next season with her husband in his new play, "Lazarre." The Skinners are now at Spar Lake, Wis. The baby, Cornelia, is with them. The full name of this wonderful baby is Cornelia Otis Skinner, and Joe Buckley declares the name was conferred by the far-seeing father with a view to some day printing on big show bills the legend "C. Otis Skinner."

During the coming season Nat Goodwin and Maxine Elliott will star jointly again, but it is announced that Miss Elliott will star by herself for a period of five years, beginning in October, 1903. Clyde Fitch is writing a play in which she will make her debut as a star. The Goodwins are now cruising in the Mediterranean and will remain abroad until September.

The Jefferson family will be largely in evidence the coming season. Old man Joe will make his usual fall and spring tours in his familiar repertoire, and his son, Thomas, will tour in "Rip Van Winkle." In addition Joe, Jr., and his brother, William Winter Jefferson, will appear as joint stars in "The Rivals," Joe as Bob Acres and Willie as Sir Lucius O'Trigger.

The English Stock company closed its engagement at The Kentucky, but the only one to leave so far is Mr. Harmon, who left at noon for Chicago. Mr. James leaves tomorrow, and Miss Gale, who has been ill, will not leave until she is able to stand the trip. Some of the other members are waiting for boats, and do not know when they will leave.

In "The Castaways," which is played at La Belle park tonight, Mr. Middleton makes a decidedly sensational leap from the lighthouse window into the sea—a bit of business which brought storms of applause at the previous performance.

Miss Fields formerly of the English Stock company, makes her first appearance with the La Belle company on Thursday night.

WANTED BLOODHOUNDS

A STORE AT DUKEDOM BURG-LARIZED SATURDAY NIGHT.

Marshal Crow yesterday received a telephone message from a Mr. Robertson, a merchant of Dukedom, Ky., asking for bloodhounds to track a robber.

His store was broken into Saturday night and robbed of a great deal of goods and the robbers left no trace behind as to their identity. Marshal Crow referred them to Fulton for the hounds as none are kept here.

Heart Disease

retards the circulation, weakens the stomach, deranges digestion, pollutes the blood, destroys the nervous force and saps the vitality of the whole system. It causes pains in the side, palpitation, shortness of breath, smothering, dropsical swellings, sinking spells, and frequently ends all suffering in sudden death. Why tempt death when a cure is within easy reach?

"My head would get so hot it seemed to be burning up, while my feet were like ice. My limbs would swell and get numb. I had to sit in a chair day and night for months and my heart throbbed and pained me terribly. After using three bottles of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure I could do a good day's work."

Rocky Autograph Album.

Probably the oldest and most precious autograph album that has ever existed lies in an almost unknown corner of western New Mexico. More than two centuries before our Saxon forefathers penetrated the desert of the southwest, the Spanish pioneers, wandering through these lonely wilds, found a rock so noble and so remarkable, even in a country of wonderful stone monuments, that they called it "El Morro" (The Castle). Wishing to leave some record for future generations, they traced with the points of their swords their names upon its rough surface. These names are there, with dates of their inscription—in nearly every instance the early part of the seventeenth century.

MANY AGENTS GO UP

Promotions on the Louisville Division of Railway Mail Service.

Most of the Fortunate Mail Agents are Well Known in Paducah.

OTHER PROMOTIONS TALKED OF

Captain H. B. Jenks of Louisville, chief of the Louisville division of the railway mail service, has announced the promotion of a number of well known railway mail clerks running out of Louisville. The promotions are accompanied by gratifying increases in salary, and the percentage of promotions on the Louisville and Paducah division is one of the highest of any division of the country, which is a credit to the men, as well as a tribute to the efficiency of Captain Jenks. The following is a list of those promoted, with the increases in salary: A. W. Cox, Chicago and Louisville, from class 3 at $1,000, to class 4, at $1,200.

A. A. Jones, Chicago and Louisville, same.

Chris Reising, Chicago and Louisville, same.

J. P. McClure, Chicago and Louisville, from class 2, at $900, to class 3, at $1,000.

G. N. Boehm, Chicago and Louisville, same.

Leo Portman, Louisville and Fulton, from class 3 at $1,000 to class 4, at $1,100.

R. R. Satterfield, Louisville and Fulton, same.

S. W. Paris, Louisville and Fulton, same.

Marcus Hudson, Louisville and Fulton, same.

R. A. Kelly Louisville and St. Louis, from class 3 at $1,000 to class 4 at $1,100.

J. R. Compton, Louisville and St. Louis, same.

J. J. Downey, Louisville and St. Louis, same.

Ezra Crane, Louisville and St. Louis, same.

J. F. Van Zandt, Louisville and St. Louis, same.

Of the above all but Portman, Satterfield, McClure, Paris and Hudson now run through Paducah, and some of them formerly stopped here and lived in Paducah. Mr. McClure is quite well known here, and has many friends.

It is announced that additional promotion will be made in the near future in the cases of clerks ineligible at present on account of incomplete examination records.

MAN WHO WAS ALMOST A HERO.

Didn't Rescue Anybody, but Nearly Broke His Neck.

"I know how it feels to be almost a hero," said a young man with a black eye, an arm in a sling and a patch of court plaster adorning his features. "I live near the Barrett residence at 49th and Pine streets, which was burned the other day. I happened to know that Mrs. Barrett was ill in bed, but I did not know that she had been quietly removed by the back way to a neighbor's house before I arrived on the scene.

"When I got there a colored servant girl was out in the street pointing frantically to the upper part of the house, shouting unintelligibly and generally acting like a crazy person. The interior of the house was already in flames and I immediately jumped to the conclusion that her mistress was in danger of losing her life. Without waiting to question the girl I rushed into the house and in groping my way through the smoke succeeded in pitching headlong down the back stairs. I had satisfied myself, however, that every one had gotten safely out of the house.

"When I reached the street again, choking for breath and pretty well battered up," continued the young man, according to the Philadelphia Record, "the servant girl was still wringing her hands and screaming at the top of her lungs. I asked her what she was carrying on that way for. Pointing to a window on the top floor she wailed:

"See dat room up dere? Dat's my room, an' my two weeks' wages is in my trunk up dere burnin' up."

COPYRIGHT, 1936, BY J. B. LIPPINCOTT COMPANY

"Can I, ledy?" said the fellow, leaning in an attempt to look amiable. "Wish I had the chance to try."

The guard interrupted by telling her it wasn't permitted to speak to the conductor while out of bounds, and so we had to ride on. All Miss Cullen was able to do was to throw him a little bunch of flowers she had gathered in the mountains. It was literally casting pearls before swine, for the fellow did not seem particularly pleased, and when, late that night, I walked down with a lantern I found the flowers lying in the ditch. The experience seemed to sadden and distress Miss Cullen very much for the rest of the afternoon, and I kicked myself for having called her attention to the brute and could have knocked him down for the way he had looked at her. It is curious that I felt thankful at the time that Drute was not holding up a train Miss Cullen was on. It is always the unexpected that happens. If I could have looked into the future, what a strange variation on this thought I should have seen!

The three days went all too quickly, thanks to Miss Cullen, and by the end of that time I began to understand what love really meant to a chap and how men could come to kill each other for it. For a fairly sensible, hard headed fellow it was pretty quick work, I acknowledge, but let any man have seven years of western life without seeing a woman worth speaking of and then meet Miss Cullen, and if he didn't do as I did I wouldn't trust him, on the tail-board of a locomotive, for I should put him down as defective both in eyesight and in intellect.

CHAPTER II.

THE HOLDING UP OF OVERLAND NO. 3.
On the third day a dispatch came from Frederic Cullen telling his father he would join us at Lamy on No. 3 that evening. I at once ordered 97 and 218 on to the connecting train, and in an hour we were back on the main line. While waiting for the overland to arrive, Mr. Cullen asked me to do something which, as it later proved to have considerable bearing on the events of that night, is worth mentioning, trivial as it seems. When I had first joined the party, I had given orders for 97 to be kicked in between the main string and their special, so as not to deprive the occupants of 218 of the view from their observation saloon and balcony platform. Mr. Cullen came to me now and asked me to reverse the arrangement and make my car the tail end. I was giving orders for the splitting and kicking in when No. 3 arrived, and thus did not see the greeting of Frederic Cullen and his family. When I joined them, his father told me that the high altitude had knocked his son up, so that he had had to be helped from the ordinary sleeper to the special and had gone to bed immediately. Out west we have to know something of medicine, and my car had its chest of drugs. So I took some tablets and went into his stateroom.

Frederic was like his brother in appearance, though not in manner, having a quick, alert way. He was breathing with such difficulty that I was almost tempted to give him nitroglycerin, instead of strychnine, but he said he would be all right as soon as he became accustomed to the rarified air, quite poolpoohing my suggestion that he take No. 2 back to Trinidad. And while I was still urging the train started. Leaving him the vials of digitalis and strychnine, therefore, I went back and dined on my own car, indulging at the end in a cigar the smoke of which would keep turning into pictures of Miss Cullen. I have thought about those pictures since then and have concluded that when cigar smoke behaves like that a man might as well read his destiny in it, for it can mean only one thing.

After enjoying the combination I went to No. 218 to have a look at the son and found that the heart tonics had benefited him considerably. On leaving him I went to the dining room, where the rest of the party were still at dinner, to ask that the invalid have a strong cup of coffee, and after delivering my request Mr. Cullen asked me to join them in a cigar. This I did gladly, for a cigar and Miss Cullen's society were even pleasanter than a cigar and Miss Cullen's pictures, because the pictures never quite did her justice, and, besides, didn't talk.

Our smoke finished, we went back to the saloon, where the gentlemen sat down to poker, which Lord Ralles had just learned and liked. They did not ask me to take a hand, for which I was grateful, as the salary of a railroad superintendent would hardly stand the game they probably played. And I had my compensation when Miss Cullen also was not asked to join them. She said she was going to watch the moonlight on the mountains from the platform and opened the door to go out, finding for the first time that No. 97 was the "ender." In her disappointment she protested against this and wanted to know the why and wherefore. "We shall have far less motion, Madge," Mr. Cullen explained. "And then, we shan't have the rear end man in our car at night."

"But I don't mind the motion," urged Miss Cullen, "and the flagman is there only after we are all in our rooms. Please leave us the view."

"I prefer the present arrangement, Madge," said Mr. Cullen in a very positive voice. "I was so sorry for Miss Cullen's disappointment that, on impulse, I said, 'The platform of 97 is entirely at your service, Miss Cullen.' The moment it was out I realized that I ought not to have said it and that I deserved a rebuke for supposing she would use my car."

Miss Cullen took it better than I hoped for and was declining the offer as kindly as my intention had been in making it when, much to my astonishment, her father said:

"By all means, Madge. That relieves us of the discomfort of being the last car, and yet lets you have the scenery and moonlight."

Miss Cullen looked at her father for a moment, as if not believing what she had heard. Lord Ralles scowled and opened his mouth to say something, but checked himself and only flung his discarded down as if he hated the cards. "Thank you, papa," said Miss Cullen. "But I think I will watch you play."

"Now, Madge, don't be foolish," said Mr. Cullen irritably. "You might just as well have the pleasure, and you'll only disturb the game if you stay here."

Miss Cullen leaned over and whispered something, and her father answered her. Lord Ralles must have heard, for he muttered something which made Miss Cullen color up, but much good it did him, for she turned to me and said, "Since my father doesn't disapprove, I will gladly accept your hospitality, Mr. Gordon." And, after a glance at Lord Ralles that had a challenging "I'll do as I please" in it, she went to get her hat and coat.

The whole incident had not taken ten seconds, yet it puzzled me beyond measure, even while my heart beat with an unreasonable hope, for my better sense told me that it simply meant that Lord Ralles disapproved, and Miss Cullen, like any girl of spirit, was giving him notice that he was not yet privileged to control her actions. Whatever the scene meant, his lordship did not like it, for he swore at his luck the moment Miss Cullen had left the room.

When Miss Cullen returned, we went back to the rear platform of 97. I let back the traps, closed the gates, got a campstool for her to sit on, with a cushion to lean back on and a footstool, and fixed her as comfortably as I could, even getting a traveling rug to cover her lap, for the plateau air was chilly. Then I hesitated a moment, for I had the feeling that she had not thoroughly approved of the thing and therefore she might not like to have me stay. Yet she was so charming in the moonlight, and the little balcony platform made was such a tempting spot to linger on, while she was there, that it wasn't easy to go. Finally I asked:

"You are quite comfortable, Miss Cullen?"

"Singularly so," she laughed.

"Then perhaps you would like to be left to enjoy the moonlight and your meditations by yourself?" I questioned. I knew I ought to have said more, but I simply couldn't when she looked so enticing.

"Do you want to go?" she asked.

"No," I ejaculated, so forcibly that she gave a little startled jump in her chair. "That is—I mean," I stuttered, embarrassed by my own vehemence, "I rather thought you might not want me to stay."

"What made you think that?" she demanded.

I am not a good hand at inventing explanations. After a moment's seeking for some reason I plumped out, "Because I feared you might not think it proper to use my car, and I suppose it's my presence that made you think it."

She took my stupid fumble very nicely, laughing merrily while saying, "If you like mountains and moonlight, Mr.

"Don't you find it very lonely?" cormon, and don't mind me back or a chaperon, get a stool for yourself too." What was more, she offered me half of the lap robe when I was seated beside her.

I think she was pleased by my offer to go away, for she talked very pleasantly and far more intimately than she had ever done before, telling me facts about her family, her Chicago life, her travels and even her thoughts. From this I learned that her elder brother was an Oxford graduate, and that Lord Ralles and his brother were classmates, who were visiting him for the first time since he had graduated. She asked me some questions about my work, which led me to tell her pretty much everything about myself that I thought could be of the least interest, and it was a very pleasant surprise to me to find that she knew one of the old team and had even heard of me from him.

"Why," she exclaimed, "how absurd of me not to have thought of it before! But, you see, Mr. Colston always speaks of you by your first name. You ought to hear how he praises you."

"Trust Harry to praise any one," I said. "There were some pretty low fellows on the old team—men who could not keep their word or their tempers and would slug every chance they got—but Harry used to insist there wasn't a bad egg among the lot."

"Don't you find it very lonely to live out here, away from all your old friends?" she asked.

I had to acknowledge that it was, and told her the worst part was the absence of pleasant women. "Till you arrived, Miss Cullen," I said, "I hadn't seen a well-gowned woman in four years." I've always noticed that a woman would rather have a man notice and praise her frock than her beauty, and Miss Cullen was apparently no exception, for I could see the remark pleased her.

"Don't western women ever get eastern gowns?" she asked. "Any quantity," I said. "But you know, Miss Cullen, that it isn't the gown, but the way it's worn, that gives the artistic touch." For a fellow who had devoted the last seven years of his life to grades and fuel and rebates and pay rolls I don't think that was bad. At least it made Miss Cullen's mouth dimple at the corners.

The whole evening was so eminently satisfactory that I almost believe I should be talking yet if interruption had not come. The first premonition of it was Miss Cullen's giving a little shiver, which made me ask if she was cold.

"Not at all," she said. "I only—what place are we stopping at?"

I started to rise, but she checked the movement and said: "Don't trouble yourself. I thought you would know without moving. I really don't care to know."

I took out my watch and was startled to find it was 20 minutes past 12. I wasn't so green as to tell Miss Cullen so, and merely said, "By the time, this must be Sanders."

"Do we stop long?" she asked.

"Only to take water," I told her, and then went on with what I had been speaking about when she shivered. But as I talked it slowly dawned on me that we had been standing still some time, and presently I stopped speaking and glanced off, expecting to recognize something, only to see alkali plain on both sides. A little surprised, I looked down, to find no siding. Rising hastily, I looked out forward. I could see moving figures on each side of the train, but that meant nothing, as the train's crew—and, for that matter, passengers—are very apt to alight at every stop. What did mean something was that there was no water tank, no station, or any other visible cause for a stop.

"Is anything the matter?" asked Miss Cullen.

"I think something's wrong with the engine or the roadbed, Miss Cullen," I said. "And if you'll excuse me I'll go forward and see."

I had barely spoken when "Bang, bang!" went two shots. That they were both fired from an English "express" my ears told me, for no other people in this world make a mountain howitzer and call it a rifle.

Hardly were the two shots fired when "Crack, crack, crack, crack!" went some Winchester.

"Oh, what is it?" cried Miss Cullen.

"I think your wish has been granted," I said. "We are being held up, and Lord Ralles is showing us how to"

COUNTY COURT.

Disposition Made of Several Right of Way Suits.

Administrators of the Bishop Estate
Appointed by Judge Lightfoot.

County Judge R. T. Lightfoot's court room presented a very busy appearance this morning and resembled the court room of the circuit court when a murder case is being tried. The principal business before the court was the hearing of the railroad condemnation cases, although this is his regular county court day and matters of a different nature generally consume the time of the court. In the three banks cases, the commonwealth against First National, City National, and American-German national bank, suit over the payments of taxes, the court issued in order of continuance.

The estate of Emmet Baker was ordered into the hands of the public administrator.

Will Bishop, who had made a motion to be appointed the administrator of the estate of the late W. S. Bishop withdrew the same and Joe Bishop moved the court to appoint him the administrator. The court then appointed W. A. Berry and Jesse B. Moss administrators of the estate of the late W. S. Bishop, and the motion to have the estate placed into the hands of F. G. Rudolph was overruled.

The suits were brought by the C. St. L. and N. O. railroad, now the Illinois Central road, and are for the condemnation of property through which the road wished to secure a right of way to build the Cairo branch.

The commissioners reports were filed last week.

The railroad cases were then called and the following is the disposition so far made of them.

In the case against Lizzie Liebel, demurrer and exceptions were filed, against H. W. Rottgering, same order; W. P. Albert, exception filed by the plaintiff and defense filed demurrer; Peter Stanley, continued; Mrs. Weldon Griffith, exceptions filed by the plaintiff; Mrs. Elizabeth Newman, report of the commissioner confirmed; J. C. Gilson, exceptions filed by plaintiff, and the case set for the 18th; Jim Stone, Jr., report of the commissioner confirmed; Geo. Stone, exceptions filed by plaintiff and the case set for the 21; E. T. Stone, report of the commissioner confirmed; B. B. Moss and others, report of the commissioners confirmed; G. R. Murphy, report of the commissioners confirmed; T. O. Bradshaw, plaintiff, filed exceptions and defense filed demurrer to exceptions; R. L. Potter filed exceptions; W. Bernard, plaintiff, filed exceptions; A. Kuykendall, report of the commission confirmed; Fannie Stanley, filed exception by plaintiff and defense filed general demurrer to exceptions.

The cases which are not set will be immediately taken up and tried and gotten through with as soon as possible so that the railroad company will not be delayed any more than necessary. There will be some little interest manifested in the payment of the commissioners who made the appraisements. Some want $3 and others think more will not be too much, while others will be satisfied with less. The court will decide this later.

CIRCUIT COURT

A ROADWAY CASE WAS THIS MORNING SETTLED.

A judgment was this morning filed in circuit court in the case of R. P. Ellis against T. M. McGee for the plaintiff.

The case was a proceeding to settle a dispute over the obstruction of a roadway which the defendant claimed he owned. The court adjudged in favor of the plaintiff, and ordered the obstructions removed and the land placed in the hands of the plaintiff.

SUDDEN DEATH.

MARGARET TANDY DIED FROM OLD AGE YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

Margaret Tandy, aged 89, died yesterday afternoon at her home on West Harrison street, after a brief illness. She was apparently well when prostrated by a sudden attack, and died in a few moments. There was no doctor, and Coroner Peal was called this morning to hold an inquest, the verdict being that she died from old age.

A REPORTED ROBBERY.

Marshal Crow this morning received a telephone message from Woodville saying that a man had been robbed of $50, and that the person supposed to have committed the robbery was supposed to have come this way. His trunk had been entered and the money taken while he was away from home. No other details were furnished, and the police have no clue.

Mr. Will Sanders has returned from a trip east.
